

MY MASTER PLAN

- My passion: Keep thinking it over and over and the only “passion” that came up to my mind is FOOD. It has nothing to do with ibis somehow but I feel happy when I think about food, about doing a job that relates to cooking. I also like traveling, I want to go to new countries to experience the cultures, to meet new people and especially to explore the world’s different cuisines.
- My talent(s): I think that I’m a type of person who is really friendly and open. Also, I am always willing and happy to discover and learn new things, meet new people (and become their friends would be much more amazing)
- My business dream: I want to own a wide range of hotels, restaurants and resorts. My desire is giving the customers the best services and products that my (future) business provides.
- My definition of success: I define success as having a job that even though I have to spend 24 hours doing it I'm still 100% enjoyable and enables me financially ; being surrounded and supported by my beloved family and friends; being with the love of my life, my lovely kids and my dogs; having the freedom and health to do whatever I love and to travel to anywhere I want.
- My long-term goal: Enjoy my life as much as i can, be able to do things that I love for the rest of my life.
- My short-term goal: Do the best that I can do at school, graduate and get a good job that enables me financially so that I can step by step make my business dream come true.
- My commitment: I promise I will never give up on my dreams despite the failures, the challenges and I will do what I love and always love what I do
